Boos of the Month

A big boo to Wake Forest for giving up 210 points in the month of October. They played five games in the month and two were victories — a win over powerhouse Appalachian State by a point and a win over another powerhouse Virginia (60-7) by three points.

But they received their most attention of the year when they played Clemson. They lost only by 82-14.

A boo to Northwestern (8-0) for taking a beating year-in and year-out. Do they ever win a game? In the month of October they gave up 225 points and scored just 23.

Other college boos to Nevada-Vegas, Colorado State and Oregon State who gave up 219, 219, and 222 points in the month of October.

A boo to the Baltimore Colts for showing the N.F.L. is the worst defense in the league and not winning a game.

A boo to N.B.C. for not giving the interesting records on their Sunday football telecasts.

Lt. last five years they would always mention the record of A.F.C. vs. N.F.C. and N.B.C. covers all A.F.C. games, and C.B.S. covers all N.F.C. games.

Over the years the A.F.C. always had a better record over their N.F.C. rivals. But this year, going into the month of November, the rival franchises have the same records against each other.

A boo to Scranton Tech High. After going into the month of October with a 3 and 1 record, they came out of the month with a 3-5 record. And they were picked to finish third in the Big 11 this year.

There is a team in the Suburban Conference we can give a boo to, but we won't because we don't feel we should pick on that same school every month.

Defending Big East champion Boston College has signed Union-Endowed's Mike Sinicki.

Sinicki, a 6-foot-6 forward played against our Chargers last year in an exhibition game and then later played with Hornbeck Chevrolet in area tournaments. Mike is just a senior this year.

Congratulations to Fran Gabriel for being voted by her teammates as co-captain for this year's Lady Royals.

I wish somebody could get the Suburban Conference back into the Dream Game.

I would like to see the Suburban play the Big 11 in the game. The Suburban has too many good athletes to not be able to compete in an all-star game.

I think the Pettinato, Langenderfer, Simon, Derrera and Yannonis are as good as the top backs in the Big 11.

The Suburban also has some outstanding linemen. Carbondale Area's Don Hickey can bench press 330 pounds and is as solid a blocker as any one in the area.

Carbondale Area stayed a B school instead of a C this year in the Eastern Conference, they may have made post-season play.

It all depends what Prep does the last few games.

Lakeland has finally made the Philadelphia Inquirer's Top Ten Teams in the State poll.

They are tied with Carlisle for 10 place in this week's poll.

A down valley junior football conference is staging an all-star game.

First, it's getting too cold for 12-year-olds running around sweating up.

Secondly, how many games are you going to let 12-year-olds play?

Thirdly, how can you pick a true all-star team in junior football?

Fourth, for as many games as they are being made the teams more are disappointed that they didn't.

Abington was the only team in the league this year.

Those planning to play in the league are asked to attend the meeting or to contact Bob Steyer, physical director, at 282-2210 prior to the meeting date.

The YMCA is holding Korean Karate classes for children and adults every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

Physical conditioning, self-defense, and mental discipline are part of the training. Regular testing, personal competition, and quality instruction highlight this successful program.

Joe Margulich, third degree blackbelt, is chief instructor. His assistants include Matt Homick and John Juliano.

This program is continuous, so registration is held at any time.

The women's EXTRA-CISE class meets every Monday evening from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. The class is designed for women who are overweight and looking to get back into better shape.

As a supplement to the exercise portion of the class, tips on diet and nutrition will also be given.

Diene Kurkley instructs the class, assisted by Wilksy Walker.

The class is a continuous program, pre-registration is not necessary.

In action at the Carbondale YMCA Winter Volleyball League, on Wednesday, Nov. 4, in the first match of the evening, the Y Brothers won two of three games from the Y Sisters, 15-11, 16-14, 9-15.

The league is for members of the YMCA and will be run on Sunday evenings.

If there is enough interest, the Y will also hold an over-30 league to be held on another who voted against competing. Good move, Abington?

Remember that TV ad last year, when Mean Joe Greene of the Pittsburgh Steelers walks into the locker room and a wide-eyed kid offers the tackle his bottle of Coke?

On Nov. 15, a 60-minute NBC-TV special inspired by the award-winning spot will air. It's called "The Steeler and Pittsburgh Kid," with Henry Thomas, 9, as the little boy.

I don't like the Phillies' choice of Pat Corrales as their new manager. He was a losing manager when he coached at Texas for two years. It is rumored he will make $800,000 per year. Far less than most of his players.

Chargers drop Friday night game to Hornets

The Carbondale Area Chargers finished the 1981 Suburban Conference (football) season with a 6-3 record following a 24-6 defeat Friday night at the hands of the Hornetdale Hornets at Hornetdale High School field. Hornetdale jumped out in front with a 6-0 margin in the first quarter when Steve Langenderfer carried the ball in from the three-yard line.

That was all the scoring for the first half as Hornetdale held on for the 6-0 margin going into the locker room and a wide-eyed kid offered the tackle his bottle of Coke?

In the second half the Chargers tied the contest as Dave Pettinato ran in from the two.

The touchdown capped a nine-play drive. However, Hornetdale soon came back on a two-yard run to go ahead at the end of the third quarter.

The Hornets added two more touchdowns in the fourth and final period to top the Chargers.

Each team had 11 first downs, but the Chargers had 93 yards rushing compared to Hornetdale's 248.

Sidelines:

Chargers finished second in scoring in the Suburban Conference for the year.

Hornetdale's Steve Langenderfer wins the Suburban scoring title.

The Hornets will be competing in the Lackawanna Basketball League this season. Friday's game was the last for 18 Chargers seniors. Chargers next year will be small, but have some good speed in the skill positions.

Chargers finished third in points given up per game in the Suburban Conference.
